ZULIANA MOD CAPITAL

THE CORNER

ETIQUETTE

"I'm still searching for anything", The modest proper-grown on basic education from middle-up management background family. Zuliana is very protective on the native characters, she's made a silly thing, she's made mistakes, and feel sorry about cancel culture like others. Which there's no hard drag on competition and Video Games never been stole her soul. Which mentoring challenge on technology and networking building around the World Wide Web and transmigrating to the Artificial Intelligence as the circle of her backstory. Which one is more intelligent, mirroring or self-improvement?

1. Goals

Have you created goals for the projects?

The goals is always and always moving forward to the right, you've never been step forward when some of people are left behind, whatsoever their gender, the continuity of company is the vision. I've thought, it's one ordinary mission which all people also doing the same.

2. Daily reflections

What have you planned on daily reflections?

I'm so into manpower, back to back on the backyards. I never believe, that I can and want to doing by or for myself. So, when I'm trying to communicate that to people, I've always wishes good feedback. I've known excellence in math and not-so-ever thinking of playing politics since in the school. So it's reflected about what you've been learned and planned for tomorrow that you have to asking others too for understanding. I'd too much enjoyed as average person, worked 9 - 5, teamed at work, meet deadlines and so. Natural intelligence is still worth to decide, very improving, and even the future. It's not a big deal to make a different, therefore there's a big impact and in continuing for the long-term value. Do I enjoy of becoming conservative or just conserving the effort of beings, could be question on my daily reflections.

3. Skill Mastery

Have you identified the key skill you need to master?

Looking back and always on the go, I've started proper train at 2 year old and passed my senior at 15 year old. Which, I've probably programmed into the technology. I have Technology, Communication, and Design background. Which, got proper in business and administration is the main of skill-set I have to master in years in the fields.

4. Time Blocking

What did you do for self development?

I grew up and surrounded by engineers and master administrator team of Germany's company in manpower and high-technology construction, which thinking that you've just learned to be proper on timelines, basically, I'm still blocking the lines for productivity and positive outcomes, that can't be happen in one night, you just know that perhaps.. ten or twenty years. And without right people with similar vision and mission, it's almost impossible one to do right for many. I'm still searching for anything on the progress.

You'll know, the most adulthood is boring, and not so much fun, it's just a cup of tea. Not all of as like to become individuals to saving times.

PROFILE

5. Read Daily

What did you read and books on your desk?

I've been hold 300+ books until today, which, most on my desk are the management journals and some entrepreneur's biography. Mostly self-improvement, because we don't know what we don't know.

6. Network Building plans

Have you planned your network development?

In entrepreneurship, You've just know when you having right intention to communicate with others, and when it false regulated, it'll be known quickly, which, small minded people only building for a week and perhaps you don't need to live the company forever, or have to be forgotten.

7. Technology

What have you planned on the technology in the future?

I'm still read and read, and stay a very away of another people judgment about office politics or doing political activity for profits. Especially when people talking about statute acts and law. So, the future of technology is being co-operative. It's in between you've just need high-technology or not at all in the areas.

8. Video games

Have you play video games?

I've started video games since 6 year old, whether still in parental controls. Which is not so pop culture adoption, just in case surrounded by many high-technology gadgets for the construction work set, it was all the challenge. Video games to me is experiencing something that I can't touch in the real world. Not just in case of the economy does, but so many children could learn by. You know what to do with or without gadget on the right place and by principle only.

9. Self-challenge and Achievement

Have you set priority to step up?

One simple step is only about understanding. I've got so organized since joined the Red Cross for years decades ago, which, was in the blood bank management position. Ordinary thing that made me, and thinking about the challenge is, perhaps I've just wanted to improve human ability, beside of own-self and the company. The labour improvement is a good challenge in the middle-class area for years forward achievements.

10. Anti competition declamation

Have you tracked yourself about Competition in Business?

In years, I've got to understand about insecurity. It's almost impossible I've just learning and trying to competing, that's so rare, what if people learn to believe on their own-self ability, unless they commit in joining the Olympics, and still in measuring the equal abilities. But in reality, I've just still searching for collaborators, in very common public, which having the same mindset for improvement and survival in company.

11. Track progress

What did you do for tracking your progress?

Make a positive progress, positive arrangements, we might only count on good only. As Youth generation of the audience, progressive which is meant to creating better results. The timeline is stay, people just wanted to collaborate and for the welfare on this terms. It's hard to believe, no-one really attracted to be very fruitful, which is doing so much effective but still showing credibility.

12. Mentor challenge

Have you moderating yourself to mentoring or get advised by personal mentorship?

All above the estimation. I was started as small entrepreneur in fashion under 10, which, volunteering myself was a very improving in junior, as senior, I was mentored the juniors in computer program operation. Perhaps, I have no sense of doing too much intervention these days in short-term basis, and preferably just connecting the dots of how much it becomes unbalanced when you doing infringement to the characters development. Or just feel lucky to have even disciplined on the higher level of academic programs.

I was that person who had no time to even thinking who's most beautiful girl in the school, or you have to and must be pressed just validate yourself to be cool person on the blocks, but is still popular regulations and likely socially acceptable.

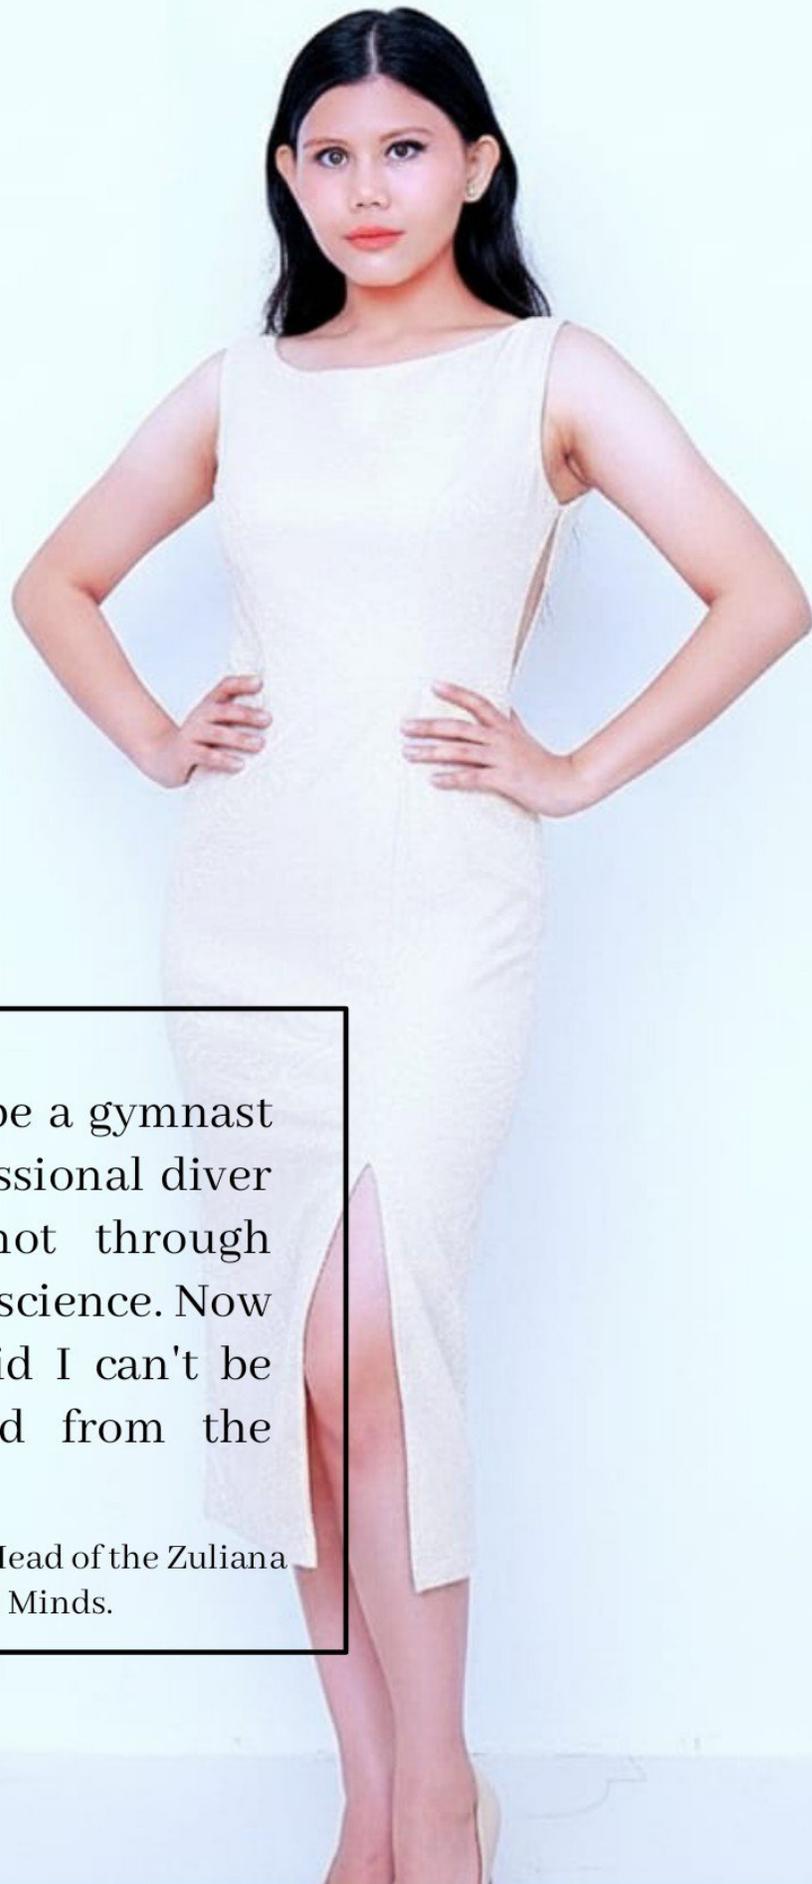

I've got handed by the former Disney's animator in last months of senior year, which told us that you've never going too far from what the circle lining, about when you started and being a progression of your business or career.

I always thought, everyone wanted to building their name, and I'm not believe on competing will actually make you great, I've just improve and improve. It's not on the leaning ability, but how much you can make an affordable and compatible system for your own, because sometimes you've to split the lines between the idealistic and being experienced in the company.

13. Leadership Successful Thinking

What do you think about Success and what is success?

It's not all by myself. Maturity. When I hear about leadership, I've always thinking about maturity. You've probably don't need to thinking about traumatic challenge, or what is blockade battlefield?, I think you've never got real issue (laugh). It's provided by on my track, adopted the system, and probably it's only do applied to, one to do right for many. If it was High-fashion, which, always sophisticated on the regress, so will you made yourself today. It's so rare on leadership, they'll never stopped to learn. Big thinking is kind of success, whether it's regulated well, and well done.

66 I could be a gymnast or professional diver if it's not through into the science. Now I'm afraid I can't be separated from the gadgets.

— Zuliana, Head of the Zuliana on Human Minds.

14. The Company

What is Zuliana Mod Capital and What do you do in business?

It's a company. A little capital city of the Zuliana, I'd believe we having a big think about how to regulating the moderate scale of place, doing on operational system, and developing some for completely functional in proportion, as a person on board I do believe everyone does, as is world of Zuliana's business. A little much of arranging, regulating, and proper engineering.

15. On Regulations And Policies of A.I

What did you do on Artificial Intelligence regulations and policies?

Since being thrown in and for public, I thought, it's a little bit much to eliminate people to upgrade or downgrade the skills, because you need more skillful people in the area, otherwise you need them to stay still in some industries, that you don't really want to change. So, on regulations and policies, I've been thinking to held on my scope of people.

16. On Education

Have you planned on the Education?

I've got so many things, shortly, I'd believe all passes the phantasmatic and what do I do for the future.

17. On Gender

What do you think about your gender and sex?

I'm sure and measurable. The most irritates me a lot about the gender is, when I can't decide of what should or could do for better version of myself. Instead of you need another to driven your orientation of anything. I'd believe you will, and thought, that we should act and being so respectful, than against more because of personal insecurities. All about sex that I thought not all people can see is I can see person as person. Not a single agenda of the Zuliana to change the orientation or sexual habit, instead of "We could waiting for readiness".

18. On Career

Would you explain about the management?

On Manpower, the company culture that you should not see yourself as a labor or thought of being on a slavery event because of too little much of the wages, which, eventually, you know every single step is about the vision.

19. On Ethnicity

What about your race?

I'm Dutch. The ancestry of Caucus, Indian, and Asian. I wouldn't mind to get or do something primitive of where I've came from or what I've become to label myself today. I can be and can't be so saint on process, or lack of influencing too much about supremacy of the race and class. All I have to know is the rules and norms of the race. Normally, if I could bring culturalism on table, I'll pick one or two to making a good impact, which, it can be so rough.

20. On Religion and Faith

What do you have on your religion and relationship with others?

What's on God? —I've learned all religions under 10, before it settled well of learning people in sort of group or community, which, I have to focus on the right thing of mine, it doesn't mean I should mislead, because of what it seems good to me, perhaps not great on others. It's so elaborating, it's so common, it's so plain, It's so respectful, and if it didn't work, it might be something wrong with it personal and the will. Which, protect my mind before it changes everything to be disoriented and disordering anything.

22. Money Culture

What do you think about Billionaire's label?

I have been thought "Oh, he's billionaire" , or "Oh, she's billionaire", let it be a person, the label of what I can't do no wrong, because it attracts people to doing the same or reaching out the high-profile, all is about attention and nothing's wrong with being wealthy, some scope of people are motivated by the money culture besides of sex and popularity.

23. On Manpower

What motivates you about jobs and future works?

I'd believe you also, and only think what a smarties can do in the room. Instead of, you just need to be stable and proper to do one thing at a moment. I've seen so many whitewashed idea about what could we do about the jobs and also the labour, I've seen so many surround me that will also drag me to the left than moving forward. I'm still searching for proportion of physical and mentally health to be right on the position. And what could do we do about the hunger programs in the future is still on the line of the grand planning of the Zuliana.

24. On politics and government

Have you personal perspective on politics?

I haven't. We always have a power to change anything, but then they're like playing see saw on the playground. I've got a very visible about being so visionary to the next 9 terms of presidential, two or three regimen and I openly untouched the ground or doing intervention, instead of what I've been written on the blue print of everything.

25. On Guns and Drugs

Would you share your thoughts about Guns and Drugs?

The culture about man and mentality. I've seen many of them being so disappropriate on "They always thinking of being smarties in the room", and disability that invisible and impossible for to speak up. You know something about you can and can't control, and is discontinued on what I called popular education in the future.
